Purpose

Over the next few months, the Delta ISB will host a series of presentations to better orient new members on Delta science and management, as it embarks on new reviews, starting with the two-day Delta ISB meeting from January 12 to 13. On January 12, the California Department of Water Resources (DWR) and the United States Bureau of Reclamation (USBR) will provide an overview of the operations of the State Water Project and Central Valley Project. In addition, the California Department of Water Resources will provide an overview and update on the Delta Conveyance Project.

On January 13, the Delta ISB will meet to discuss its current reviews, future reviews, and revisit the Science Needs Assessment. This will include a discussion on the draft 2022-2026 Science Action Agenda review and the Delta ISB's water supply reliability review. In addition, the Delta ISB will hold an open forum that will provide an opportunity for individual Delta ISB members and the public to identify and discuss emerging science issues that may warrant a review by the Delta ISB. Based on the discussion, the Delta ISB may take potential action on the next steps on current and future reviews, along with the Science Needs Assessment.

This section describes the highlights. For more information about the meeting, refer to the agenda below.
